dir Bob GodfreyMusic by: Johnny Hawksworth

Individual titles in this series:-When Roobarb didn't see the sun come up...When Roobarb turned over a new leaf. When Roobarb wasn't as pleased as punch. When Roobarb found sauceWhen Roobarb made a spike.When Roobarb was being bored, then not being bored.When there wasn't treasure.When it wasn't Thursday.When there was someone else.When the tree fell to piecesWhen it was night.When it was Christmas.When the sun was just right.When the opera wasn't a phantom.When Roobarb was cheating.When Custard was sorry.When Roobarb mixed the paint.When Roobarb's heart ruled his head.When you're going to fly - fly high.When the day didn't arrive.When Roobarb did the lions share.When Roobarb was at the end of his tether. (and so was Custard)When Custard stole the show.When there was a dance at Foxes Dale.When the day wouldn't keep still.When Roobarb got a long break.When the pipes call the tune.When a knight lost his day.When Custard got too near the bone.When there was a big mix-up.

So-called Scopitones were similar in effect to the Soundies of the 1940s, but much improved technically, inasmuch as the 3-4 minute films were produced on 16mm in colour, with magnetic sound and could be viewed individually. Several different companies made them for showing on the Scopitone machines which were located in bars, cafés and restaurants. They were particularly popular in France. This writer remembers at least one of them in regular use in an Italian coffee bar in London.

 It has been suggested quite reasonably that the Krupa Band was in fact the Butch Stone Band for whom many of the listed musicians were playing at the time of filming. It is likely that an arrangement was concluded between Monogram Studios and Stone to refer to the band as being Krupa's simply because his name would look better on the marquee.
